Nicknamed 'The Greatest', he is widely regarded as one of the most significant and celebrated sports figures of the 20th century and as one of the greatest boxers of all time. Ali died on June 3, 2016, in Phoenix, Arizona, after being hospitalized for what was reportedly a respiratory issue. He was 74 years old. The boxing legend had been suffering from Parkinson's disease and spinal stenosis.

Abbas Kiarosthani commemoration Day

A commemorative speech about Director Abbas Kiarostami was held at MCJ Department. Mr. Shajahan K E prepared and presented the commemorative speech. The speaker, as well as the students observed that, Kiarostami first dabbled in commercials and shorts, until his first feature in 1977, 'The Report'. From then on, influenced in part by Italian neorealism, he constantly combined and manipulated elements of reality, documentary-style, and fiction, blending them with immense humanism and hypnotic poetry, setting his movies mostly in real locations and using real people, not professional actors, often insisting that he was not a storyteller. He knew how to invent a structure that would be dialectic and assertive, fueled by an emotion coming from the very insecurity of the situation happening on screen.

KG Subramanniam commemoration day

A commemorative speech about Cartoonist K G Subrahmannian was held at MCJ Audio Visual Theatre on July 1st 2016. KG Subramanyan, was one of India's most senior artists, working with diverse media and materials, and exhibiting extensively both within and outside the country. Known as much for his wide- ranging scholarship as well as for his artworks which are full of wit, subversion, eroticism and critical social commentary, Subramanyan was a towering figure in modern Indian art.
